

Academic Advisor journey

Starter

Getting to know the curriculum, workplace and colleagues

Learning rules, guidelines and policies of the university and program(s)

Intervision within own division

Training in conversational skills

Coaching by senior colleague of another faculty

coaching

1-2 years

Toolbox for each student type

Personal Circumstances

- Dyslexia
- Autism
- AD(H)D
- Mental Illness
- Suicide prevention training (113.nl)
- Disability

Study Choices

- Choice of bachelor programme
- Choice of major
- Choice of Master programme

Study Skills

- Active studying
- Planning
- Concentration
- Motivation
- Academic writing
- Exam preparation

Extra-curricular

- Honours programme
- Studying abroad
- Professional athletes
- Extra courses and minors

Is this still the right job for me?
Further development or change of career.

Professional

All of the above and:

Participating in or leading university wide projects

Training of students or development of (creative) products for academic advising

Taking initiative to improve processes

Usage of professional literature in advising

Professionalisation via (inter)national events

Networking outside of own university

Is this still the right job for me?
Further development or change of career.

Senior Academic Advisor

All of the above and:

Mentoring/training new Academic Advisors

coaching

Research and development within own specialisation

Participation in nation-wide policy making

(Temporary) switch of workplace (nationwide or abroad)

Development and publication of own material: (i.e. policy, training, materials, article, app)

Is this still the right job for me?
Further development or change of career.

Expert Academic Advisor

All of the above and:

Dissemination of own expertise

Contribution to nation-wide policy making

Collection of data and publishing results

≥ 10 years

Contact

Would you like more information or a workshop for your team? Contact us via www.academicadvising.nl

Saskia Blijlevens - Tilburg University
Yves Houben - Eindhoven University of Technology
Elisa Remmers - University of Amsterdam